IN MEMORIAM

THOMAS HORN

One by one his chums shall miss him
And each day we'll miss him more
But we'll not forget him ever,
Though his work on earth is o'er.
He has finished with the labors
God had given him to do
But to ev'ry task he tackled
He was worthy and was true;
And he left to us a lesson--
One of truth and royal worth--
That the love of noble effort
Is the finest thing on earth.

M.C. 40; Imlay City 0

An aggressive and spirited Mariner team won its first game against Imlay City 40-0. Both teams played a hard fought game.

M.C. 37; Marysville 6

Another runaway for the Orange and Black gridders of Marine City. The Vikings were the first team to score on the mighty defense of the Mariners.

M.C. 0; Algonac 6

Biggest disappointment of the season as the Mariners lost the championship game to Algonac. Fumbles were costly errors responsible for the defeat.

M.C. 9; Richmond 0

With spirit riding at a very low level, our Mariners just edged out a fighting Blue Devil squad.

M.C. 39; Holy Cross 0

Playing without the services of Dick Chapman and Bill Ameel, the M.C.H.S. second stringers got a chance to show their stuff. Star of the game was Chuck Miller, who, behind excellent blocking, raced to 155 yards.

M.C. 27; St. Clair 0

With a large Homecoming crowd observing, the Mariners let loose a barrage of TD's to win finally the much sought trophy, "The Finsterwald Bell."

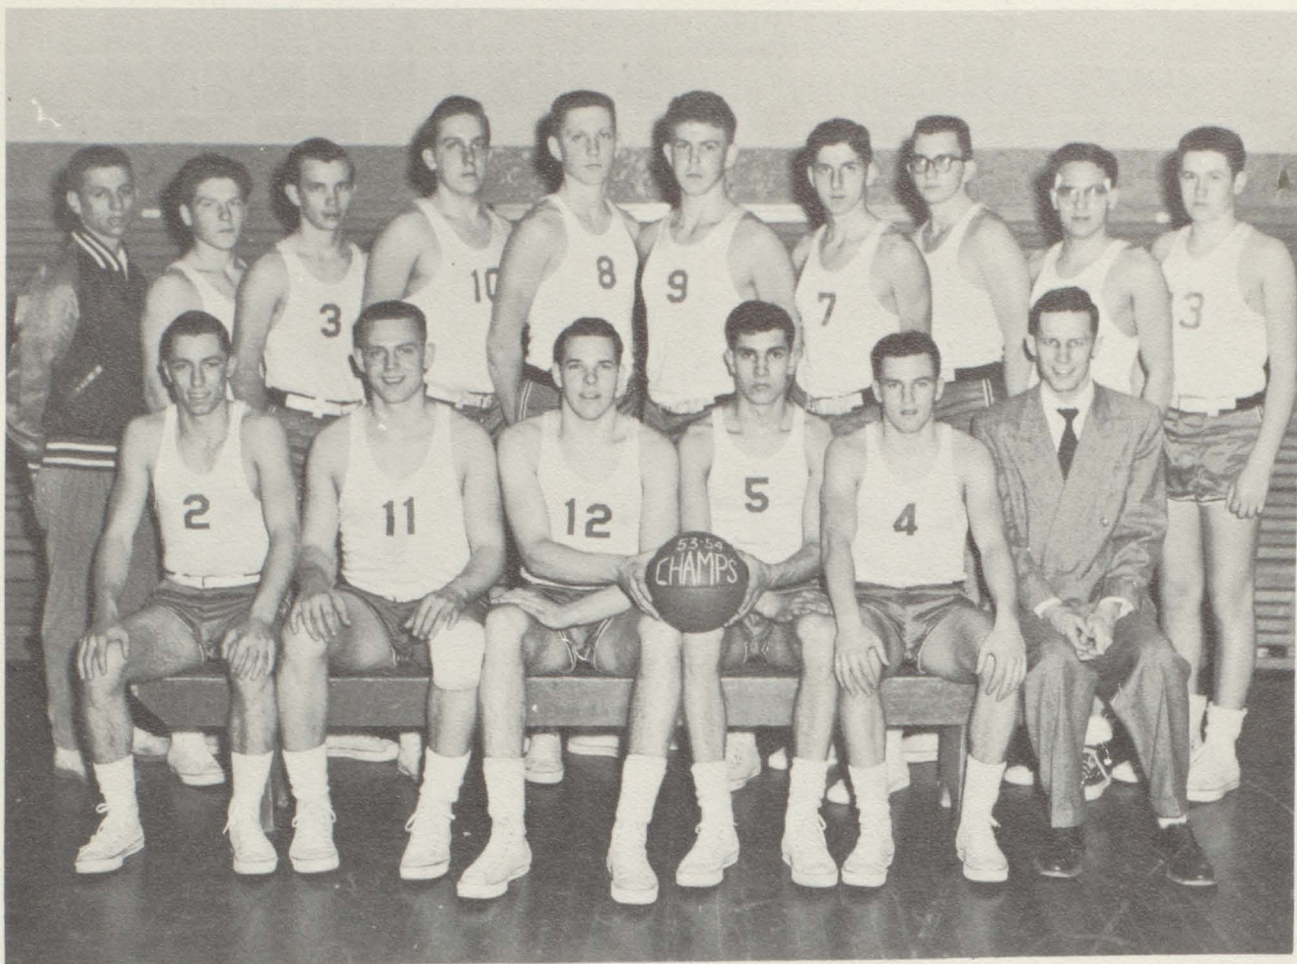

M.C. 34; St. Stephens 0

After reconciling themselves to making a good showing in the remaining games (after the Algonac defeat), the team really was hot. Good, hard blocking plus fine running brought another well won victory for the Mariners.

M.C. 19; New Baltimore 0

With second place in the county at stake, the Mariners defeated a very strong New Baltimore team. The defense was the best of the season.

TOURNAMENTS

The 1954 State Runner-Up Team poses with its trophies: County, District, State Runner-Up, Regional, and County Lions Club.

Mr. Borr and the team were honored on many occasions during this basketball season. After the team had won the county title, a banquet was given in the Home Economics Room by the parents of the boys.

After winning the Semi-Finals and losing to St. Marys in the Finals in Lansing, the boys returned home to find a State and City Police escort waiting for them. A parade through city streets led by the high school band followed by the team, school buses containing the student cheering section, and hundreds of local citizens in cars ended at Ward Cottrell Gym, where a party was given by the Chamber of Commerce.

Many merchants individually honored the boys for their achievement.

On April 12 the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club, the Rotary Club, and The Detroit Gasket & Mfg. Co. combined their efforts to honor the 1954 team, along with the 1916 State Championship team, with a banquet in the Detroit Gasket cafeteria.

President's Address

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. We of the graduating class feel honored to have you, our friends and relatives, here at our graduation.

Our trip through school could be compared to the journey of a ship down a long difficult river. We have come to the delta of that river now and are about to go into the ocean of life. In our journey, so far, we have been guided by our parents and teachers. But now that assistance is, for the most part, gone; some members of our class might go on to colleges and universities and others will work in factories. Now someone might say that the people who go to college are the only ones that are important. But is it not true that the greatest leaders in the world would be helpless if there were no one to follow.

Some men are great leaders; others are not. Some men are great scholars; others are not. Any man that has done his part in contributing to civilization is a success. Any man from the street sweeper to the President has made his life a success, if he is doing the work that he is capable of doing and if he does it well.

We have learned much from books, but not all knowledge can come from them. We have learned things that are far more important. These other things that we have learned will probably prove to be more important to us in life than what we have learned from books.

And now, upon graduation, we will take our places in adult society. We hope you enjoy our commencement program.

Henry Reichle

Class Poem

We Mariners, the class of '54,
Met upon a distant shore.
Standing ready to board the ship
That would take us on our four-year trip.

We stowed the cargo, raised the sail,
And prepared the ship for the strongest gale.
Soon we had left the quiet bay
And the rolling ocean before us lay.

No winds, nor waves, nor storms we met,
Could change the course that we had set.
Our ship sailed on through night and day
Her colors flying, red and grey.

Sometimes we thought the voyage was long
But now we know that we were wrong.
We've found the ocean was not too wide
Now that we've reached the other side.

Tho we studied hard, when work was done
We found we had time for some fun.
Until one day we sighted shore,
Which meant Commencement in '54.

We'll never forget our four-year trip
And the days we spent aboard the ship.
And tho we loved those days at sea
We know the best is yet to be.

Class History

In September, 1950, we set forth in our Freshman year, seventy-four strong. Under the guidance of Mr. Ketner and Mr. Connors, we accomplished many things which caused other grades to look with envy upon our Freshman class. Under the leadership of Richard Johnson, our president, we had a very successful Junior Red Cross drive. Homeroom A challenged Homeroom B to a race. Homeroom A won the challenge, and B paid the forfeit with a picnic. Under the supervision of Mr. Ketner and Mr. Connors, we enjoyed an afternoon at the Lions park. We played softball; and, of course, there was plenty of food on hand. Everyone came home tired but very happy after our first class party. As Freshmen we gave a record dance. It was well attended and will always be among our fond memories of the year. We brought our year to a close with a picnic at Lakeport. Again under the watchful eyes of Mr. Ketner and Mr. Connors, all who were there had a wonderful time. There was plenty of food on hand at all times and much sun. We came home sunburned, waterlogged, tired, but looking forward to our Sophomore year.

September, 1951, found us back after a ten weeks' vacation and ready to take up our role as Sophomores of Marine City High School. Under the leadership of David Holland, our class president, and Mr. Connors and Mrs. Joachim, we began a very enjoyable year. As Sophomores we were allowed to give another dance. A large crowd attended and everyone had a grand time. In fact, everyone hated to leave when the hands on the clock pointed to eleven-thirty. Our Sophomore year came to an end, but it will never be forgotten by any of us. We were all looking ahead, however, with great pleasure to becoming Juniors.

In September, 1952, after a ten weeks' vacation, we were back again and this time as Juniors. Our class sponsors were Mr. Connors and Mrs. Joachim. Virginia Malcolm led the class as president. During our Junior year, Marine City High School held its first homecoming. Two of our fellow classmates, Bill Ameel and Nancy Clark, were elected king and queen. In the spring of the year we had a magazine and a stationery sale. Everyone went out and sold these items and we very easily met our goal of $1,000. The boys challenged the girls to a race; the boys won and the girls treated them to a dinner. Everyone enjoyed themselves tho.

May 28 was the night of the annual J-Hop, "Night in Venice." The music was furnished by Jim Hendrick's orchestra. Under the supervision of Mike Gaston, we had one of the most colorful J-Hops ever given. June was upon us then and so was the Junior-Senior Banquet. David Holland served as toastmaster. The meal was enjoyed by everyone, and after dinner Tom Horn furnished us with entertainment with his accordin. Following the Banquet, the Prom "Aloha" was given at the Jefferson St. Gym as a farewell to the '53 graduating class. With our participation in the Baccalaureate exercises and graduation we brought our Junior year to an end. We were now ready to take up our new role as Seniors.

September, 1953, after another glorious summer vacation, we were back fifty-six strong to start our last year of high school. As Seniors we gave the first dance of the year. It was a very well attended dance and everyone enjoyed themselves. Towards the end of September we had another magazine sale. We didn't do as well as we expected but we did keep our spirits up. The boys challenged the girls and lost, but as yet, the girls haven't been treated to their dinner. "They Gave Him a Co-Ed" was a three-act comedy given by the Senior class on November 19, 1953. No one will forget how hard the cast worked to produce such a hilarious hit.

The Christmas season was upon us then, and we set the date of the annual Mistletoe Dance for December 23. The Seniors gave this dance and were very proud of it. The students that attended had a wonderful time and will always remember this as one of the nicest Mistletoe dances ever. King and Queen of the dance were Vida Erdbecker and Richard Smith. February 6, 1954, we gave a Senior Carnival, the first in several years. It was held at the Ward Cottrell School; and a bigger success you never saw. The Senior Class of '54 will always be proud of this carnival. On May 1, 1954, the class sponsored a big Senior Prom. It was something different, a Senior Prom open to the public. The old South was the theme of the dance. The title was "Southerama."

It is June, with our wonderful trip to New York City behind us; no one will forget those four glorious days. Even the train ride excited everyone of us. Then came graduation night. How can anyone forget the wonderful thrill of standing up on the stage and receiving his diploma? Such memories are never to be forgotten. We leave behind us wonderful memories of those four years, but we take with us always our motto, "To See Ourselves As Others See Us."

Class Song

ANYWHERE I WANDER

The time has come for our paths to part;
We say our last good-byes;
We know not when we shall meet again
Or where the future lies.

Oh, red and grey our colors are;
Our flower is the rose;
We looked far for a special one,
The reddest flower that grows.

We hate to think of parting now,
To leave the friends we know.
We'll not forget the joys we shared
As forward now we go.

Anywhere I wander,
As the years may pass,
Tho oceans I cross and riches I gain,
I'll not forget my class.
